Users who do not wish to create a personal account may click on “Materials Database” at the top right to begin browsing immediately. However, creating a personal account will allow the user to save materials to “Material Boards” which will make it easy to return to saved materials for continued research and to share their findings with professors or peers. To create a personal account:

Click on “Log In” at the top right. This will open a pop-up window.

The screenshot shows the Material ConneXion user interface. At the top left is the logo "Material ConneXion" with the tagline "A SANDOW Company". On the top right, the user is greeted as "Hello, Christopher" and "Material ConneXion University". Navigation links include "My Account", "My Materials", and "Log Out". A language dropdown menu is set to "English". A dark navigation bar contains links for "Materials Database", "Database Tutorial", "Our Categories", "Material Review", and "Locations". The main content area is titled "My Account" and shows the user's name "Christopher David" and email "cdavid@mcx.edu" with an "Edit" link. There are sections for "CONTACT INFORMATION", "NEWSLETTERS", and "ADDRESS BOOK", each with an "Edit" link. The "ADDRESS BOOK" section is further divided into "Billing Address" and "Shipping Address", both of which are currently not set and have "Edit Address" links.

If you have any questions or encounter any trouble navigating the database or creating a personal account, please email the Brian Schumacher, the Online Resources Librarian at bschumacher@academyart.edu, or the Material ConneXion helpdesk at ithelpdesk@sandow.com and we will be happy to help you!
